Description of Property and Justification: (Please attach map and photo)

The Fair Hill N.R.M.A. Headquarters Building was first inventoried in 1967 as part of the original Cecil County MIHP survey. The original building is a stone structure which dates to the second quarter of the nineteenth century, when the building was owned by the Brokaw Family. During the 1960s, several additions were made, including four dormers in the attic storey and a hipped roof one storey addition that may have been an open porch at one time. A stone fireplace at the west end of the porch is also a 1960s addition.

The building sits on the southeast corner of the former Elkton, Andora and Lewisville Plank Road and Fair Hill Drive (old MD 273). It was taken over by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources in the 1970s, following the death of Mr. William duPont, Jr. duPont had used the building as a clubhouse for his Fair Hill Race Course, a 17-jump steeplechase course. The house is now used by the National Steeplechase Association for its offices. In addition, because it is within the Fair Hill N.R.M.A. property, there is a tall foot fence along the western boundary of the building.

The Fair Hill N.R.M.A. Headquarters Building has been altered as a result of its ownership by first duPont and then by the DNR and the National Steeplechase Association. As a result of these alterations, the Fair Hill Headquarters Building lacks integrity of materials, design, feeling and association. SHA has therefore determined that it is not eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under Criteria A (events) and C (architecture). Research undertaken for this project did not identify persons of significance, so Criterion B was not met, while Criterion D was not investigated as part of this portion of the study. Because this historic resource is part of the Fair Hill NRMA property, its boundaries are included within the larger resource found on Cecil County Tax Map 13, Parcel 385.

Addendum

The Fair Hill N.R.M.A., Department of Natural Resources, Headquarters Building is located on the Southeast corner of the intersection of Maryland route 213 and Maryland route 273. In the previous survey in 1979 this building is called the Fair Hill Races Clubhouse, however as noted on this addendum it is currently the location of park operations for the Fair Hill N.R.M.A. The structure has changed little since the last survey was undertaken, except for the addition of an unpainted exterior wood emergency staircase on the north facade.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The structure is a large rectangular plan house with long axis running east to west, two storeys under a gable roof with east-west ridge. The house was built in two sections. The older (c. 1840) is stone, with a modern frame extension to the east, on axis. The number of bays is not constant, at a maximum of six on the first storey, south elevation. There are four dormers on the south slope of the roof, five on the north. A frame porch-addition, completely weather-tight, spans the first storey of the south elevation. A massive stone chimney (1960's) rises out of the fireplace at its west end. The porch has a central entrance (south) with sidelights and transom. There is a one storey frame addition of three bays on the east end of the north elevation. The original main chimney rises out of the east wall of the stone section, now roughly in the center of the main roof. Details of the exterior belong generally to the 1960's renovation, including boxed eaves and cornices, cornice returns at the eaves, on both the main roof and the dormers (very heavily proportioned on the dormers). All frame portions are clapboarded. All windows are 6/6. The stone section has brick flat-arched lintels with shaped "keystone" brick on the north elevation, very massive flat granite arches of two slabs with keystone elsewhere. There seems to be some original late federal/early greek revival woodwork on the interior of the stone section (original reveals of the entrance, e.g.) which has been mixed with considerable reproduction work.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Among the first properties to be bought by William DuPont in his campaign to purchase Fairhill, probably his first house, acquired between 1925 and 1930. The extensive renovations of the 1960's are intimidating, in that they overwhelm and nearly engulf the stone section, and have been richly but not very sensitively done. The original house remains of some interest, especially in such original woodwork as remains. The additions and alterations are interesting in their own right as "popular" attempts to deal with an historic structure.

This house appears on the 1877 atlas as the residence of W.H. Brokaw.

Recommendation:

The house is needed and well cared for, and good maintenance is assured. Regardless of its compromised character, changes which are contemplated should be discussed with the MHT before initiation.

This is a large composite house five bays long. The right three bays are fieldstone while the other two are clapboard. The house is three bays deep. It has large generous and deep proportions and is set on a very high basement and is capped by a steeply pitched A-roof. All of the windows are 6/6 sashes. There is one chimney enclosed at the west end of the house. There are 5 6/6 dormers on the roof. The windows on the front of the stone section have flat brick arches while those on the side and rear have arches composed of two large fieldstones, each with a smaller stone keystone between them. There are large high windows on the basement level. The clapboard section of this house is probably later in date than the stone part and may date from the first quarter of the nineteenth century. At the rear of the house is a large fieldstone chimney which may have been for a now non-existent kitchen wing. Unfortunately this house has been altered in that the door has been moved and the windows are new aluminum sashes, but otherwise it is in good condition and its exterior remains relatively unchanged. FAIR Hill, Inc. Condition: Good but altered
